THE famous champagne bath case in New York drags on. Miss Joyce Hawley, lady in the tub, admitted to the court yesterday that SHE WAS IN THE TUB. SHE TOOK THREE OR FOUR DRINKS OF THE CHAMPAGNE IN THE TUB AS HER BATHING. IT ALSO SOME DRINKS FROM OTHER SOURCES. "I did not drink," the lady, weeping, told the court. And then she explained her ankle trying to run away, and she had not been paid the $700 "promised her for the stunt." On the whole, the party was a failure, in her opinion.

Joyce Threatened Carroll, Witnesses Say

80 CHORIS GIRLS RUSH 'TUB' TRIAL

New York, May 26 (I.N.S.).—A Broadway atmosphere was added today to the "wine bath" trial of Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, charged with perjury, when Augustus Thomas, playwright, and Al Jolson, comedian, were summoned as defense witnesses while 80 pretty young chorus girls from Carroll's musical revue rooted silently from a front-row bench for their employer.

The treasurer and assistant treasurer of Carroll's theatre testified they had heard Miss Hawley threaten to give adverse grand jury testimony unless she was paid for her bathtub "stunt." One witness said she had demanded $100 to "say anything" Carroll asked.

Thomas testified he was not a guest at the midnight-to-morn party given by Carroll at which it was alleged Miss Hawley, beautiful 17-year-old show girl, bailed a nude male bathtub of champagne.

The playwright said he had known Carroll since 1919.

M'CORMICK HIDING AFTER 'YOUTH' TESTS

Harold F. McCormick, Chicago harvester millionaire, whose vital organs were studied by Boston experts at a local hospital because, it is said, of the failure of transportation of glands to have the hoped-for lasting effects, was in mysterious retirement today.

He was simultaneously reported to have left his store in his home, No. 388 Commonwealth avenue, in Boston, and to be enroute to Chicago and to be residing at an estate in Marion on Buzzard's Bay.

Mrs. Stanley McCormick, his sister-in-law, had reported he would go to Chicago after a short rest, and would then probably return to his wife, Ganna Walska, the former opera singer, in Paris. It is the estate of the Wirt Deans, parents of Mrs. Stanley McCormick, that the

MORE KIDDIES MADE HAPPY

"I enjoyed the picture as much as the children did," said Sister Superior M. Gabriel of the Home for Destitute Catholic Children, after witnessing "That's My Baby," which was shown by the Boston Evening American through arrangement with the Metropolitan Theatre. The film is being shown to the public all this week at the Metropolitan Theatre.

It was the third time a motion picture had ever been displayed at the home on Harrison avenue and the 110 little kiddies being cared for there by the good Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, enjoyed it their frequent outbursts of applause and laughter as they followed the comical adventures of Douglas MacLean and the four-year-old youngster who shares honors with him.

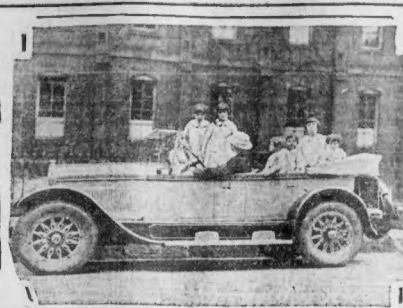

"Our children like motion pictures better than any other form of entertainment," said the Sister Superior. "They are just crazy about them. I think it is a fine thing that the Boston Evening American and Metropolitan Theatre is doing to help the children at Daily Industrial School."

The crippled inmates of Massachusetts Hospital School, Charlestown, viewed the film today in the large recreation room of the institution. Arrangements were made for the children at Daily Industrial School, Dorchester, to see it tonight. It will be viewed tomorrow afternoon by the persons confined in the House of the Good Sisters, Boston street, Roxbury, a non-sectarian institution doing excellent work, and at the Home for Jewish Children, Dorchester, Friday afternoon.

A stately Flint automobile continued to convey representatives of the Boston Evening American and Metropolitan Theatre to and from the institutions where the film is shown. The use of this car is donated through the generosity of General William H. Bailey and Manager William K. Frederick of the Flint Company, both of whom are fond of kiddies, particularly the unfortunate enough to be confined in institutions.

cheap fertilizer, the power genius suddenly discovered that it ought to be developed by the government.

Henry Ford concludes his editorial as follows:

"THE FARMERS can go to the Government for their nitrate as in the past, and the electro-chemical industry can go to Canada or Norway, as it has been doing, and the water power of the Tennessee River can go to waste until the power combine gets ready to exploit its use."

If the people had the power, they would do something about that whole smelly scandal—at least the farmers would do something. But they have no way of doing it, not having much to do with government.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN chemists announce a new local anesthetic better than cocaine, developed in three years of hard work by Professor S. M. McIlvaine, helped by Ralph Jones. The new drug is two and a half times as powerful as cocaine, with only one-third of its poisonous quality, and is said to produce surface anesthesia without hypodermic injection.

It ought to be a blessing to dentists, and to surgeons in minor operations. That is really important news.

The original discovery of anesthesia, made in America only recently, by the way, was very important to the comfort of this human race, perhaps, than any other case discovery.

SOME PEOPLE still read books. Ten thousand visit New York's big public library every day, and seven thousand actually read. The library lent 2,000,000 books last year. Brooklyn's library nearly 4,000,000. Reading does not keep up with the population since the radio has come in, but a few do read, and some of them THINK. And that is hopeful.

PRESIDENT DOMERGUE warns the world that if there is a smash in French finance something else will smash with it.

He is worried about Alsace Lorraine, where religious trouble, and, above all, financial trouble, causes anxiety. The Alsatians, changed suddenly from Germans back into Frenchmen, find their money worth less than four cents to the franc, while the German mark across the border has its old value.

FRENCH SOCIALISTS threaten trouble for Briand if he doesn't do something to help the sick franc, and demand "heavy hand on capital," meaning confiscation of French wealth with heavy taxation on all speculation. Which is a plan to kill the goose, instead of collecting her golden eggs in time.

GERMANY has good money, but many worries. She wants the League of Nations to disarm every country sufficiently to make every nation too weak to defy the League.

That is impossible. The nations wouldn't consent. And in any case the idea of standing armies no longer counts. A flock of flying machines would enable one country to defy half a dozen other countries. And they can be built quickly.

SIR C. U. WALPOLE, one of Great Britain's greatest jurists, killed himself yesterday at the age of eighty-eight. Death would have saved him the trouble had he waited a little.

But he died from impatience. In Greece and Rome old men committed suicide frequently. One distinguished Greek philosopher, nearing one hundred, stumbled as he left his chair, and killed himself because he thought a man unable to keep his feet should not live any longer.

In those days suicide was a matter of taste and quite respectable.

NEW YORK, the most important market in the world

The
dominates it

The New York market—the metropolitan district within 50 miles of Manhattan—has 9,000,000 consumers, as many as there are in the twenty-eight large American cities shown on the map.

New York Evening Journal,
2 Columbus Circle, New York City

Dear Sirs:

You will undoubtedly be glad to read the facts laid down in this letter. They surprised and pleased us greatly. We have heard a great deal about merchandising cooperation from newspapers, but this is our first-hand experience of what can be accomplished with all forces pulling together.

With the cooperation of the Journal Merchandising Department we more than doubled the initial number of retail outlets selling Duco for Handy Home Uses in your marketing area.

Likewise we were pleased with the attention value of our opening color page advertisement and more Brush Duco was sold in the first three weeks than we had originally thought might be sold during the entire campaign.

Naturally, we are gratified and as you know, are continuing to use the Journal for this campaign.

Very truly yours,

Wm. A. Hart

Director of Advertising

Wm. A. Hart

New York City has hundreds of trading centers, each comparable in population to a good-sized city. Compactness of area saves traveling expenses and time, and the New York Evening Journal's thorough coverage reduces advertising selling cost.

The richest market in the world is concentrated within the limits of Metropolitan New York.

There is more money in the New York trading area than in seven of our large states.

It is a quick turnover market. New Yorkers live well and they buy regularly and often.

New York is a very inexpensive market to sell because—

1. Its outlets of distribution are many and close together.
2. Its transportation facilities are rapid and cheap.

3. Salesmen live at home and traveling expenses are nil.

4. Its population can be reached effectively, dominating and most economically, because one newspaper reaches 46 out of every 100 people who read evening newspapers in New York.

That paper is the New York Evening Journal.

Its circulation is 700,000—double that of any other New York evening newspaper—plus 100,000.

Its copies go into the homes—and its circulation is such a large part of the New York market that it can almost be said the New York Evening Journal IS the New York market.

Its people have the money to buy anything from Steinway pianos and Packard cars to the best known cigarettes and breakfast foods.

For twenty-seven consecutive years it has had the largest evening circulation in America. For twelve consecutive years more money has been spent in advertising in the Evening Journal than in any other New York evening newspaper.

Every evening it is carried into the home and is read by 700,000 families, or figuring three readers to a family, 2,100,000 people—the most responsive audience of evening newspaper readers in the United States.

Let us tell you how you can sell 25% of your production in

New York City and at the lowest sales and advertising cost. Wire, write or phone us at 2 Columbus Circle, New York City.

What the New York Evening Journal did for Duco

The letter from E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., reproduced herewith, tells a story which is typical of the experience of New York Evening Journal advertisers. This well-known company, makers of Duco, the new chemical finish for automobiles, furniture, etc., wished to introduce this product in the New York market—to build up the use of Duco in the home as an adjunct to its many industrial uses.

The co-operation of the Evening Journal Merchandising Department, the tremendously effective color-page advertisements in the Evening Journal itself, produced results far beyond their hopes or expectations. More Duco was sold to householders in the first three weeks than the du Pont Company had thought could be sold during an entire campaign!

JOIN MAY 1926 FOR MAJORITY RULE

The ranks of Boston Democratic leaders who stand with Governor Al Smith of New York for abolition of the two-thirds rule in Democratic national conventions, was increased by two more today. Thursday J. Donovan, representative and city councillor, East Boston, and City Councilor George F. Gilbody of Northshore declared for majority rule. Their comment follows:

TIMOTHY F. DONOVAN, representative and city councillor, leader in the East Boston district: "The two-thirds rule is a relic of the past. After what took place at the last Democratic convention which in my opinion hurt this party tremendously, this rule should be changed. It isn't fair and it retards the progress of the party."

CITY COUNCILOR GEORGE F. GILBODY of Dorchester: "The majority rule is the plain democratic principle that was established in the birth of this Republic. The people of the United States have never deviated from it. This one outstanding exception to this principle so dear to Americans is that of which the Democratic party at its national convention requires a two-thirds vote to determine the candidates. The Democratic party should be consistent and the majority rule be the vital principle of democracy."

30-DAY GRIND ENDS JUNE 19
This Pontiac Six will be awarded to the person who estimates the mileage recorded on the speedometer during the continuous run on a treadmill in the Oakland Showrooms, No. 655 Beacon street.

PONTIAC GOING STRONG IN TEST

Its engine purring smoothly, the Pontiac Six which began a thirty-day continuous run on a treadmill at the Oakland showroom, No. 655 Beacon street, on May 20, is still going strong in the grueling endurance test. The long grind will not end until June 19, at a clock in the evening.

To the person who most nearly approximates the mileage recorded on the speedometer the Pontiac Six will be awarded. Any person of any age is allowed to enter an estimate without obligation. Additional guesses will be allowed to purchasers of new or used cars during the thirty days that the car is running.

In the event that a purchaser of a new car during the Pontiac Six month, during the month, should win the Pontiac coach, the latter's purchase price will be given the winner instead of the car, if desired.

W. Watson, vice-president and general manager of the Oakland and Pontiac at Pontiac, Mich., made a special trip to Boston to step on the starter button. The Pontiac coach was started on an iron tread mill. One man is on duty day and night and the engine is stopped only long enough to replenish the gas supply. This is done in conformity with a city ordinance.

DODGE ADDS TO SALES STAFF

Appointment of John R. Lee as general manager of Dodge Brothers has just been announced by President S. G. Wilber. Mr. Lee has been assistant general sales manager since last December. For several years prior to that time, he was assistant to the president.

Three new assistant general sales managers were appointed to assist with Mr. Lee. They are: H. J. New, formerly director of distribution; W. M. Purves, former division sales manager; F. R. Valey, former director of the commercial car and truck division.

Mr. Lee's duties will embrace agreements and distribution. Mr. New will be in charge of district and field operations, and Mr. Valey will concentrate on Dodge Brothers commercial car and truck sales.

"Since the assumption of my duties here in Detroit," said Mr. Wilber's announcement to dealers, "I have made a careful and determined appraisal of our sales department and what was lacking in it. In whom I have personal confidence and whose methods and purposes coincide with mine."

"I take pleasure in announcing the appointment of John R. Lee as general sales manager, and to assure you that he will have my personal support and assistance in the performance of his duties and in working out an effective sales administration."

TURN ENGINES
OFF ON BOATS

Unwary motorists during 1925 often found themselves face to face with a $500 fine because they forgot that Congress had enacted a statute which fines them for starting the engine of a car, or for keeping the engine running while the car is on board any vessel in American navigable waters.

The A. U. in a notice last broadcast calls this law to the attention of all motorists. Notices are posted at the driveways and in the entrances of ferry boats. Two Federal inspectors in plain clothes watch for violations, checking against each other to avoid error. No warning is given to the automobile owner. Violators are reported to the district collector of customs.

"During the month we received 657 new orders for the New Stutz Safety Chassis, or five more than the number of cars shipped during the month."

Lifebuoy

stops body odor

The simple, common sense, effective method. Millions are discovering that antiseptic Lifebuoy is the one thing that gets rid completely of this distressing condition, even in hottest weather.

Body odor comes from an accumulation, in pores all over the body, of acids of perspiration and fatty wastes. Under-arm applications correct any part of the trouble. Lifebuoy corrects it all. Ordinary baths help, of course, but their effect is soon lost unless Lifebuoy is used. The wonderful, health guarding antiseptic in Lifebuoy has amazing power to penetrate the pores—flush out the waste. And with skin that is antiseptically clean no odor is possible.

Just a Lifebuoy bath every morning and you'll stay fresh and immaculate all day long—free from embarrassment. Try it. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

REDISTRICTING DISPLEASURES DEMOCRATS

While Governor Fiske won his fight for a change in the proposed redistricting plan, Democrats are not satisfied with the measure and will offer further amendments when the bill comes before the House today.

The Senate adopted many of the recommendations made by the Governor, increasing the size of the Cape and Plymouth senatorial district, leaving intact the city of Lawrence, which it had been planned to divide, and placed the town of Westport in the third district district with New Bedford. Originally it was included in the second district with Fall River.

The Fall River and Lawrence changes were the strongest recommendations made by the Governor. He also advocated the Cape change. The recalcitrant Democrats may still resist a change in legislative rules in attempting to offer any further amendments, however, it will be possible for them only to make the question that the Senate has not voted as far as the Governor recommended. Under their own rules it will be impossible for them to amend the measure.

The Governor suggested certain changes in the—Cape, including Cumberland, Lynn and Lowell, but these were not adopted in the Senate amendments.

SHE'S NO MASON EVEN AT THAT!

BUT SHE USES TROWEL
Mrs. Calvin Coolidge wielded a trowel like a veteran brick mason when she cemented the cornerstone of the W. Y. C. A. building in Washington. This shows the actual work.

LIVE BY YOUR LONE AND YOU CAN TEACH SCHOOL

Bridgeport, Ct., May 26 (A.P.)—Six hundred of the 800 of Bridgeport's public school teachers rallied to a married teachers' dinner sponsored recently by the Board of Education by giving a parody on "The Prisoner's Song" at the annual banquet of the Teachers' Association last night.

The parody reads:
"If you meet me tonight in the moonlight,
It may lead to a mountain of gold.
So don't tempt me, to leave my profession,
'Till at sixty I am pensioned as old."

The second stanza explains the reason as follows:
"Oh, they made a decree here last Easter,
Oh, they made a decree all over,

That if you teach in the moonlight,
It may lead to a mountain of gold."

Free Trip for Longest Married Couple

The "Early to Wed" Editor of the Boston Evening American wants to hear without delay from the New England man and wife who have been married for a greater number of years than any other couple in New England.

The newspaper, acting in conjunction with the State Theatre, where "Early to Wed" will be shown all next week, wants Mr. and Mrs. ... to be the guests on a "second honeymoon" journey.

Two friends, old in years but undoubtedly youthful in spirit, may decide whether the journey will be to Niagara Falls or to Washington, D. C.

ALL EXPENSES PAID.
All expenses, from the front porch all the way to Niagara Falls and Washington and home again, will be paid by the Boston Evening American and the State Theatre.

Conditions or qualifications to win this wonderful trip are only two: First, the two guests must be married in New England, and second, they must be living in New England at present.

This happy little contest will close at noon on Tuesday of next week, in order that the names of the winners may be announced while the motion picture play, "Early to Wed," is still on view at the State Theatre. There is no time to lose. If you know the names and addresses of the New Englanders who have been married the longest, please send them to the theatre and your favorite evening newspaper, by sending them in at once.

Address all letters to "Early to Wed" Editor, Boston Evening American, No. 5 Winthrop square, Boston, Mass.

The happy old folks who win this wonderful trip—they will go away in June—are not to be asked to write anything, or do anything else, by way of return. All that is necessary is to produce proof as to the wedding date. They will travel first class, they may select the best of hotels, they will have nothing to worry about on route.

Don't you know the very couple who should win this contest? You often hear of them, perhaps. Make them happy! Give them such a grand and glorious good time as they have not to keep up with their

PRIZE FOR NOMINATOR.
To the person who first calls the attention of the winning couple to the delightful opportunity which here is set before them, the Boston Evening American and the State Theatre will pay an honorarium of $10 in gold.

In a million, the State Theatre will place a box at the disposal of the nominator and make it possible for him, or her, to give an "Early to Wed" box party.

"Early to Wed," in which the principal players are Kathryn Perry, Matt Moore and Gust Hitt, is based upon the magazine story, "Early to Wed," it depicts the trials and tribulations of a pair of newlyweds at today, who start out with the idea that they want to keep up with their young couple, regardless of their financial ability to stand the gift.

New England's couple who have been longer married than any other couple in this section of the country, were married when "very to wed" was the rule rather than the exception. The "Early to Wed" Editor wants to hear from them at once. He has got to be making plans for their "second honeymoon."

All absent, "Grimmy" and "Agnes" of the Washington or Niagara Falls.

RUFFING DRAWS MORE JOB IN FINAL WITH YANKS

JONES DUE TO TWIRL FOR Foe

Walter Huggins Drives New York Outfit Along at Fenway Place

By NICK FLAHERTY.
CHARLIE RUFFING, who won a ball game Saturday and thereby shared his Spring time, was assigned to leave the last game of the Yankees series at the Fenway today. Charles had his shirt back and looked like the best prospect among the Fall players to try to revive the wonderful winning surge of the newly invaders.

Charles went in for the last inning yesterday, when the Yankees scored a run or so to be safe, and scored the enemy with ridiculous ease. If he can do the same this afternoon he'll get his name in all the headlines and also help the Sox to forget some of the unpleasantness of a tough visit to the native place.

Sam Jones, still as smart as pitchers come, looked like the Stiggins coming. The New Yorkers have been making runs on regularly, but prying isn't as tough as it might be. Little Alvin, who is supposed to be the best pitcher in the league, was expected to pitch today.

Huggins has a new infield—brand new at present—and a new outfield, but to don't get a few kid pitchers. Verity is out of the league, and the Sox are away with the pitcher. The Sox are away with the pitcher. The Sox are away with the pitcher.

SIXTEEN IN A ROW?

SAD SAM JONES
Four more conquests for the New York Yankees, providing no defeats are interwined, will tie the American League record of 19 straight games made by the Chicago White Sox. Sad Sam Jones probably will twirl for the Yankees today in an effort to make it sixteen straight.

Walker Asks $15,000 to Box Mello or Zivic

JACK KEARNS will be so gracious as to permit Mickey Walker, de-throned watermelon champion, to meet the winner of the Al Mello, Jack Zivic bout, billed by the Suffolk A. A. for Brewer Field for next Tuesday night, provided he is paid $15,000. The fact that Walker was named for a bout by Pete Lato apparently has not altered Kearns' ideas of what the services of the Top Bulldog of other days are worth.

Walker has been so successful in his career that he has been able to command a purse of $15,000. He has been so successful in his career that he has been able to command a purse of $15,000.

CALIFORNIA TRACK STARS DRILL IN HARVARD STADIUM

BEARS TOIL FOR TITLE MEET HERE

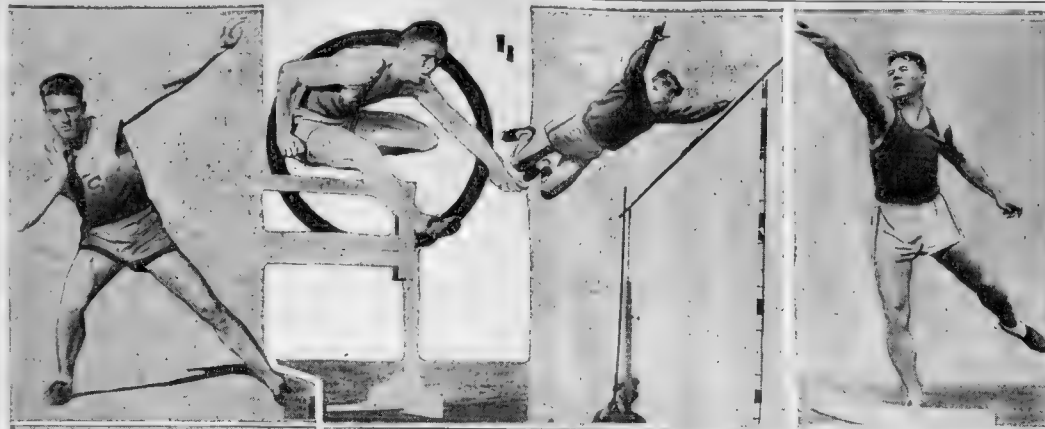

Crismann Has an Excellent Chance of Taking Crown in Saturday Competition

By EED CHANDLER

The invasion has begun. From now until the week is over the Harvard stadium will be the scene of track and field. The meet is there or thereabouts, and the outcome of the title of California champion is in the air. FIGHTS I CAN'T FORGET

JEM DRISCOLL, of England, was a fighter and a winner. He took Matty Baldwin, who was 130-pounder, in his first American appearance and made him look like a man who had been tossed into a cold tank and couldn't swim.

There was never a time during the six rounds that the clever Bostonian had a look in with England's best, and that's saying a great deal when lovers of Baldwin admitted it.

In the very first round Driscoll cut Matty's mouth with a vicious left and had his eyes bloody and watery as he went to his corner. In the second Matty was worried and wild. His body was a mass of pain.

He missed a left, and, as he did, Driscoll beat him with a right and had him stiffened up like cold candle grease. Before he came to he was buried into a corner and held on tight.

As the bell rang for the sixth and last round he made a brave attempt to even matters up, but the man in front of him was too much of a puzzle. They mixed along the ropes, and in the end Driscoll landed the knockout with his head.
